Jafra for Relief and Youth Development

By June 2020, Jafra Foundation embarked upon a new campaign to support and empower Youth in Lebanon.

We Are The Change is designed to celebrate the contribution that young people are making in our communities and inspire other young people to join them and change our world for the better.

After 3 months of absence due to the COVID19 crisis, Jafra center in South Damascus has resumed receiving the students in the education program. The center has resumed the educational program sessions to support the students to pass their exams, in addition to complete preparations for the child summer club and for the vocational trainings.

Through its centers in Syria, Jafra held a training on the parental care. The training lasted for a month as parents were introduced to the key tips to overcome challenges they face in securing the best care to children and create a healthy family environment.

As final examination in Syria has started, Jafra centers held pre-exams sessions run by competent educational cadre to reflect on the key tips for a good preparation for the tests and achieving notable results.

Creative writing course is held at Bab Al-Shams center in Athens with the participation of 10 migrants and refugees.

The course is entitled “yala naktob” Which aims to empowering and supporting the youth who are willing to develop their writing skills through an intensive training course for a month.

After months of suspension due to COVID19 crisis, Jafra centers in Syria and Lebanon have started receiving the beneficiaries' requests to enroll at the educational programs and summer clubs.

We are keen to full commitment to the safety and protection procedures to avoid any health risks to the students.
