

Monthly Newsletter

April 2023

---

Jafra for Relief and Youth Development

In most locations where Jafra operates, the local administration in charge does not provide enough services related to waste management. Jafra hopefully can rely on motivated volunteers who take in charge the removal of waste from the camps' streets, each time it is necessary.

Needs Assessment Burj Shemali Camp - 2023

Jafra releases its needs assessments 2023 for every of its locations. They are the fruit of needs analysis in each field of operation and serve to better understand the needs of the communities. They are available to read in Arabic and English languages through the Facebook page or directly on the Jafra Website, in the Needs assessment section.

April comes with more stress for the students and pupils as it launches the last semester of the academic year. Everyone should prepare themselves to go through final tests and official examinations. Teachers double their efforts and dedication during that challenging period of the year.

Things are going great on Jafra's rooftops. The greenhouses are helping in producing more varieties of crops and in a quicker pace. Participants are very happy with their production in quantity as well as in quality.

During the holy month of Ramadan and the following Eid, Jafra teams from all locations served the community by offering drinks, dates, ka3k el Eid and preparing various activities, festivities and carnivals for the communities at large.

Due to the challenging situations in the region where Jafra operates, communities are confronted to diseases and health hazards they could avoid if properly informed. In April, Jafra thus provided awareness sessions about cholera.

Check our platforms

