Jafra for Relief and Youth Development

Jafra recognizes the importance of women's role in change and emphasizes supporting Palestinian women in particular in their profound struggle for freedom. Our centers have organized several awareness sessions on the role of women in society and legal dialogue sessions for women to discuss legal issues of concern to women.

Jafra centers in Syria and Lebanon welcomed the holy month of Ramadan with several activities. Children made Ramadan lanterns from paper, and the volunteers decorated the centers, and distributed water and palm dates to those who were fasting. The services team in South Damascus also continued to perform its duty with all dedication to maintain a clean and safe environment during the holy month.

The Jafra Foundation attaches special importance to sports because of its role in building the individual's personality and developing team spirit and challenge. In the Shatila camp in Lebanon, the Jafra football team, led by coach Bilal, gave a distinguished performance when the team was able to turn the result of the match in their favor in an unexpected remontada and decide the outcome of the match in their favor through team play and insistence on winning.

Mother's Day is one of the most important annual occasions celebrated by Jafra Foundation centers in Syria and Lebanon. This year, the centers organized a number of activities to commemorate this occasion. Our volunteers greeted the mothers and presented them with flowers and symbolic gifts as an expression of our love and appreciation for their great role in life.

Jafra Foundation attaches exceptional importance to education. The educational programs occupy the largest area of the Foundation's work. Jafra is keen to focus on the quality of education and the efficiency of the educational staff and realizes the importance of the teacher's role in building generations. On the occasion of Teacher's Day, the Jafra team in Qudsaya presented symbolic gifts to teachers as an expression of our appreciation for the tremendous efforts they make around the clock for a quality educational process.

March 30 of each year marks the anniversary of Palestinian Land Day, when the masses of the occupied territories revolted in 1976 against the project to confiscate their lands by the occupation authorities. Jafra Centers commemorated Land Day this year with several sessions on the importance of this event and its symbolism in the Palestinian struggle. Jafra volunteers also participated in the marches that toured the Palestinian camps in Lebanon as an expression of our people's adherence to their land and identity in the face of attempts at dispossession and abolition.
